Bromelkamp Company Hosts Annual Learning Academy

Minneapolis, MN; August 5, 2016: In partnership with Indiana Philanthropy Alliance, Bromelkamp Company is hosting its annual Learning Academy on August 9 – 11, 2016. The 2016 Academy will be held an hour south of Indianapolis in Seymour, Indiana, at the Jackson County Learning Center. The three day learning opportunity includes a selection of classes for all levels of experience, including learning tracks for finance, program, executive, administrative and fundraising staff. Beyond many of the essential courses this year, there are several new options, including a session designed for CEOs and administrators who want to understand the power of their software, with an emphasis on using the data and reports for fundraising and board reporting. Another new session added to the 2016 schedule is for the intermediate user who is confident in their abilities and would like to further maximize their skills in database management. This year's traditional evening networking event will be hosted by The Community Foundation of Jackson County at their offices in Seymour. This event provides a relaxed atmosphere conducive to networking with Bromelkamp Company clients and consultants. To round out the Annual Academy, President Henry A. Bromelkamp will facilitate a discussion on cloud computing during the annual keynote address on Wednesday, August 10th. The Keynote Address will be broadcast live via a web connection. For more information and details, visit our website: <http://bromelkamp.com/academy>.

Why is participation in training important? Bromelkamp Company regularly surveys their clients to measure satisfaction with both the software and their individual experience with Bromelkamp's staff. A common theme identified from the survey results demonstrates that the number one predictor of customer satisfaction is access to regular and affordable training. Participation in training makes a happier client. Bromelkamp Company knows that purchasing software is a significant investment in a foundation's operations and the reliability of the foundation data is dependent on the continued and
